A word from our Baron and Baroness

Great People of Borealis,

As the warm days of summer are upon us we hope that you are planning a little bit of your time around some of the awesome events that are taking place this war season.

If you find yourself with some spare time in between your fighting prowess or even if you are not a fighter have you thought about giving a little back to your Barony? Maybe volunteer some time at an event, teach something "cool" at an A&S night or maybe even hold a office in the Barony. It's the People that make this Barony so great and the Dream everlasting.

Have a wonderful summer and we hope to see all our friends and cousins at Quad War!

Reme & Divera

Who am I?

I am a past A&S champion for Borealis and I am the current Avacal Champion

Things can get heated up pretty good when I am at Quad

I throw mud

I teach a lot of classes in throwing mud

I am a merchant

Calendar of Events

Dragon Slayer in Montengarde this weekend.
Coronation in Midhaven. Quad War - must attend, much fur to be had! August Sergeantry Trials - come see, 12, 13, 14.

Old Business

Festival of Tree's at the U of A - Planning taking place. This years theme is "Harvest". Silverwolf 2011 - 200 people, 32 of them were youths.

New Business

Largest donations of Largess ever from Borealis. Fergus of the Lost Vikings donated a needle kit for the Barony. Yule feast date has been changed to December 17th, 2011.

Taverns

We are in Need of groups to run upcoming Taverns. If no one steps up, then the hall will be closed at the end of the business meeting.

Hosting a tavern is a great way to raise funds. Do you need to replace some arrows or blades or rattan in your newcomers loaner gear? Host a tavern!

July's Tavern

July's Tavern was hosted by Sadó ingen Thuathail and Friends. On the menu for the evening was Ham, Macaroons (period mac & cheese), Salad and a Dessert.

We had a few newcomers come to check things out with our group. We also had some special guests who entertained us with music. They were friends of Alysa and all are professional musicians in their mundain life. In addition to the company of friends, there was a board game brought out and quite a few people gathered around one of the tables to play.

Ask A Herald

Question: I was just wondering...

Now that my name is passed and is finally registered, it's a bit different than what people know me by.

Do I have to change everything to my new name? This includes any awards that I have already.

Can everyone still refer to me by what they've been using, but anything official has to be by the registered name? How does this work?

Answer:

Now that your name is passed, you can start to slowly introduce your registered name to the people who know you.

All future awards and your entry into the Order of Precadence will be updated with your registered name, with your old use name in brackets beside it.

You do not have to get any of the awards already given to you adjusted or redone.

Congratulations
to Inga the Unfettered!

At July's Coronation Event,
she was put on vigil
to become a Pelican!

No Practices

Festival of Tree's 2011

By Ymany Blackeye

This year, the Festival of Trees is raising funds to support an Intra-operative "O" Arm CT Scan and supporting software for the Head and Neck Cancer Surgery Program at the University of Alberta Hospital.

"Computerized Tomography (CT) scans produce a detailed series of X-ray images taken from many different angles."

"Highly sophisticated, intra-operative CT scanners allow surgeons to plan complex surgeries with the finest detail reducing the need for multiple corrective surgeries and restoring quality of life to patients affected by this devastating disease."

The overall theme of the Festival of Tree's for this year is "Under the Tree". As stated in last month's newsletter, the direction of our tree will be going with a Harvest theme. Golds, silvers, bronzes, burgundy, oranges - anything that makes you think of fall and all of its spectacular colours.

At our July Tavern, Lana Rose and Divera came over to discuss the direction that our tree for this year will be taking.

Lana Rose was quite enthusiastic about the theme for this year's tree, and had already picked the direction that her ornament designs were going to be taking.

She will be hoping to craft small wooden wheel barrows with small wheels of wax covered "cheese". She is also going to be pursuing the crafting of small "burlap sacks of flour" and "grain".

Last year I was unable to go to Quad War, so instead, I spent a few hours at Edmonton's Heritage Festival. I stumbled onto a folklore handicraft in the Ukrainian pavilion that might work well for a group effort at crafting ornaments for our tree. (This is the same sort of thing that we did with the 3 dozen wooden horses that Inga made that a bunch of different people decorated for tournament). It is called a "Motanka Doll".

This folklore craft are small little dolls using either a roll of paper or a rolled up scrape piece of cloth for the body, then using scraps of fabric, they are decorated.

This year I again was unable to go to Quad, so spent a day at the Heritage Festival and again in the Ukrainian pavilion, I found a different version of this folk doll. This one is made from yarn. It does not have any facial features, but has a cross made out of coloured thread. I was told that this was a symbol of unity between Heaven and earth, the four corners of the world and the four seasons. In the past it was used as a talisman to ward off evil. Anyone who is gifted with one of these little dolls is wished good health and fortune.

Victory has said that she has some quilling kits that she would be willing to donate. Anyone interested in learning how to quill, both her and myself will be willing to teach all interested persons on how to quill at one of the next Taverns. The two designs would be snowflakes and angels.

I'm hoping that with working on a couple of these different crafts over the next few taverns, we will again get the same awesome participation of members as we did last year.

Also, anyone who was fortunate to be able to attend Silverwolf this year was sure to get one of the unique tokens that were crafted. In talking to Thrase, the creator of these, I found out that the little scales come in a variety of colours. I'm hoping to sweet talk him into crafting us a few dozen in a couple of different colours that will go along with our colour scheme. Keep your fingers crossed.

As all the paperwork has to be into the festival office by September 15th, there was a general concensus of those that stopped by at the last couple of taverns to talk to me about our tree that the title should be "A Harvest Celebration."

Lacombe Days Parade and Demo

On Saturday July 16, the Shire of Bitter End participated in the Lacombe Day's parade and fair. A call was put out for anyone who wished to help with decorating the float that they were sponsoring into the parade, participate in the parade, or to help with the Demo that was scheduled to happen at the fair grounds in the afternoon.

The float that was created was spectacular, with the groups efforts winning first place!

There were some of our very own members who were able to go down and give our cousins a hand with this endeavour to get the word out about our organization and their shire in particular. Members from Montengarde and surrounding area were also able to come and give a hand.

Perigrine went down to help with marshaling during the demo, Victory to help out were needed and Joan the Just went down with one of her horses in full regalia. She teamed up with another lady from Calgary to do some manuevers with their horses.

A HUUUUUGGGGGEEEEEE thank you to everyone who showed up at the demo and parade. Each and everyone of you came in and conquered Lacombe ;) winning 1st place in the parade and the wonderful turn out at the demo.

I am so very proud of the way it turned out, nothing was lacking, it was fun for everyone in and everyone watching. HUZZAH!!!..!

For a while I was scared this would fall on its face, but with the help of Bitter End Shire who brought out castle walls, erics, tents, and of course major helping hands, and from Edmonton and Calgary who's contributions in man power and horse power were greatly appreciated, this demo ROCKED!

It's already been expressed that this should happen again. If you liked what we did, please keep in touch for next summer to help make it even better ;) For while this may have been a crazy idea initially and my husband found me hard to live with for a couple of days, this was --Worth-- it in my eyes. I love you ALL :)

HQ Tessa

Looking for Idea's to continue the series of newsletters called New Horizons.

These newsletters are geared specifically towards information for the newcomers to the Barony of Borealis.

Volume one is a general overview of the SCA as a whole.

Volume two is specifically about events, with highlighting our 3 local events in particular.

Send in your idea's for more issues and topics that you would like a newsletter done up for.

Anyone who would like to put together an issue on a specific topic would be welcome!

Youth Combat News

On Sunday July 17 we had a Youth Combat Practice.

There was a great turnout of 6 fighters who had some incredible fighting.

A special thank you goes out to:

- Daniel the Broc, Junior Marshal in training
- John and Fergus, for teaching our youth
- Jean de Chauliac, for spending the whole time marshalling

We are quite short of loaner armour.

If you are bringing new fighters out, please let Peregrine know in advance so we can try to suit up everyone.

Any donations of outgrown items, especially hockey helmets (with solid back and sides), and girls sports protection would really be appreciated.

Need Content!

I need content for the newsletter to make this newsletter a good representation of everything that is happening in our Barony and the travels that our members go on.

Short stories on the various events that are attended by members of our barony would be wonderful as I can not attend everything.

Looking for someone from each of the key area's to write small stories to update our members on what is happening in your respective areas.

If you can help, please come and talk to me.

Ymanyia

I remember When... By Ymany Blackeye

Stories from times past

Photo: Ymany

This is the second story to the one that I wrote about a while back. It was the first Winter War that I was able to attend in the Barony.

This was about 7 years ago, when we were still able to have Winter Wars at the Griesbaw Army base just off of 137 Avenue and 97 Street in Edmonton.

This building had an enormous gym, that must of been 3 football fields wide. It also had bleachers that were well above the floor, giving the spectators a birds eye view of all the action that was going to be unfolding during the various scenarios.

I was watching these two fighters trading blows for a while, since they were closer to the spectators than a good portion of the other participants.

They seemed to be pretty evenly matched, so they were trading blows for a while, each trying to get the upper hand on the other. You could tell that they were enjoying themselves quite a bit.

With a mighty swing, one of the fighters attempted to deliver the decisive blow. The only reason that he missed was that he no longer was in possession of his weapon, which had arced over his opponent to go sailing a good distance away. They were both surprised to the point that the second fighter turned around to watch the sword's path as it became air-born.

He then looked back at the now weaponless fighter. Even up in the bleachers you could read the body language of these two fighters - The 2nd fighter was thinking "HUH??", while the 1st fighter's body language was "OH SHIT!!".

People tend to admire others who can think fast on their feet, and these fighters were no exception. Our first fighter did a 180 turn, and took to his heels, closely followed a heart beat later by his opponent.

Both fighters were now hoofing it at a dead run around the perimeter of this enormous gym. This didn't go un-noticed by the other combatants. Every single one of the other fighters ceased all hostilities and turned around, tracking these two fighters as they ran around the gym. Some cheering for the lead runner, some cheering for the follower.

As these two running fighters reached the point from which this all started, for what-ever reason, the lead runner tripped, over something on the floor, and went sprawling and sliding. Now, you'd think that this would be the ultimate end to him, but his opponent tripped on the floor at about the same point and also went sprawling, coming to a careening stop into the first fighter. In doing so, his weapon became airborne, sprouting wings and flying in the opposite direction as the previous sword.

The second fighter pushed himself up onto his knees and looked in the direction that his sword had sailed. In seeing that it was now out of reach, and that there were no other weapons available close by, he used his head - literally. He started to deliver blows to his opponent who was still sprawled full length on the floor, using his metal encased head. Yup, he was head butting the downed fighter, to the merriment of everyone in attendance.

This was such a remarkable and unusual chain of events that the then Baron of Borealis - Baron Magnus brought it up during that evenings court. I can't remember his exact words, but the feeling was that only in Borealis would something like this happen.

It was not until the beginning of 2011 that I discovered who these two heavy fighters were. I was telling this story to a small group of newcomers, explaining that even with hitting one another, these guys were having a good time and many of them were good friends. Wernar was close by and was listening to me tell about this very unique event. Hay! He said, that was me and Hjalti!
