Message from our Outgoing Baron and Baroness

We have had a marvellous time being Baron and Baroness of Borealis and enjoying the hospitality and warmth that make this Barony great. It truly has been an honour to serve Borealis and We owe a special thanks to the many amazing people who helped Us throughout this great journey.

Thank you to the gentiles who set hand to task and made Our time serving the Barony easier. Special thanks to Grioffa Stoneheart for her tireless and selfless personal service. Great thanks are also due to Coryn of the Wode for crafting largesse time and time again. You helped us be the generous hosts and guests Borealis deserved. We would also like to thank everyone who served as officers and Our champions. Your combined efforts made these six years nigh effortless. To everyone who assisted Us, you have our deepest thanks. By your labours you made it possible for Us to serve Borealis and honour the excellent people who call this Barony home.\

Finally, thank you Borealis for being the kind of Barony We were proud to represent. It has been Our honour to represent such wonderful people. Your generous and positive spirit make Borealis a beacon of light in An Tir and the Knowne World. We could not ask to have served a greater people or a more incredible Barony. We will always treasure this time.

Borealis may have begun a new chapter with Our investiture but these lands have traditions and histories to be proud of. As Baron and Baroness We learned to look to the past for guidance and to the future for hope. In the end, if We served the Barony well, it was because We were standing on the shoulders of those who came before Us and guided by the vision of the great people of these lands.

We have no doubt that Our Heirs will carry on the grand traditions of these lands and be careful guardians of Borealis' greatness. We ask you all to show them the same courtesy, enthusiasm and support that you have shown Us.

Thank you Borealis for allowing Us to live the Dream.

Specialized Groups -Merchants Guild-

The SCA has a number of different sub groups.

These are just smaller groups of people who gather together to pursue a common interest.

Sometimes the groups create what's called a household, sometimes these groups form what's called a Guild. There are a couple of Guilds in the Barony of Borealis. This month, we are looking at the Borealis Merchant Guild.

Members of The Borealis Merchant's Guild try to get others interested in becoming a Merchant. Sometimes being a merchant is a part of the persons chosen persona.

There are 5 main things that this guild aims to achieve.

- 1 ~ to encourage merchants to present goods for sale with more medieval and SCA content
- 2 ~ to get together to brainstorm ideas and exchange information pertinent to merchanting
- 3 ~ to provide a liaison between merchants and autocrats of events
- 4 ~ to strive for excellence as a group and to help each other to achieve this goal
- 5 ~ to educate and help merchants get established

If this is an area that you might be interested in pursuing, please contact

I remember When... By Yamadi Blackeye

Stories from times past

I remember my first real war event. It was about 7 years ago when we were able to have Winter War at Griesbach, the old army base just off of 97th Street and 137th Ave.

For me, there were a couple of stand out things that happened during this years war. One was for Rapier, and the other one happened during the Heavies part.

I wasn't authorized to play in the rapier part of the war then, so I got to have a birds eye view from the bleachers that were well above the floor of the enormous gym that this building housed.

After the Rapier Mercenaries had accepted the SCA's form of payment/bribe (4 litre ice cream pails of home made chocolate chip cookies) the teams gathered onto their respective sides of the fighting area.

There was everyone else, and quite a few white scarfs, facing off, and out numbering the Borealis and anyone else that they could get to help flesh out their numbers.

The whistle was blown, and the two groups met at the centre line to cross steal, and commence the "hostilities".

As had been in previous wars, the smaller squad of our fighters had put up a good fight, but had been overwhelmed by the numbers from the opposing force.

With a gasp, a fighter from borealis had fallen and the opponents looked around to make sure that everyone had been dispatched to meet the gods when a voice reached them across the expanse of field. There was one lone fighter left from Borealis, and he was waiting to take these nefarious ne'er-do-wells to task for dispatching his fellow group members. His name was Thorndike The Blue.

Come and get me you x@#%$#! He called out to the 7 or so remaining invaders. With a glance at one another, and a shrug, (I could tell even from my vantage point that they were thinking that "this, this would be easy pickings"), they started forward to put this upstart into his place.

With a yell of defiance, Thorndike let off his round from the load RGB (Rubber Band Gun) pistol that he had been gripping, waiting for the unwary to wander into range. Alas, the distance was just too great for accuracy, and it missed its intended victim.

With a gloating laugh, the group continued across the gym, all bearing down to the lone defender when Thorndike dropped his buckler, and proceeded to continue firing with the stash of RGB guns that had been hidden behind his buckler. Not all of the opposing fighters made it back out of range, and Thorndike was able to cut the numbers of advancing opponents almost in half.

But, this was not the end of their aggression. When Thorndike put down the last visible RGB, then the 4 members of the opposing team continued to advance across the gym accompanied by various catcalls from the "dead" who had miraculously become reanimated to watch the little subterfuge that was unfolding.

You see, as the four lone fighters closed the distance to the last defender, Thorndike leaned forward and pulled out more RGB's from behind his back, and when that stash was exhausted, he reached down under his chair and pulled out a few more guns. Through the laughter from the dead, the spectators in the bleachers, and even the merriment of Thorndike himself, a question was asked in frustration by the opposing force ~ How Many RGBs does he have, and where did he get all of them?

Alas, one lone invader did manage to avoid being hit by any of the rounds that were sailing in his direction, and "kill" the last defender, but it was a hard won victory.

Next month, I'll tell you about the heavies and what happened with flying weapons and bumps in the floor.

Sargentry

What is Sargentry?

"The positions of Sergeant, Yeoman, Gallant, Lancer and Courtier within the Baronies of the Principality of Avacal have been developed to allow individuals the opportunity to demonstrate the martial prowess, commitment to service, pursuit of the arts and sciences and dedication to the chivalric qualities and developmental ideals esteemed within the Society for Creative Anachronism."

"The goal of the Sergeantry is to provide leadership within Avacal and their local group and exemplify commitment to service to the populace of the Barony to which they swear fealty."
